9- How to type it or paste it in B.U.D.S. Access screen

The image shows a Windows-style dialog box titled "Access Privileges". It is divided into three main sections: "Connected MPI", "Current Privileges", and "New Privileges".

- Connected MPI: Contains the text "Identification: 0000-5064-P2.3" and a message: "Contact your nearest service representative to get an access code for your software." To the right of this message is a button labeled "Phone Numbers".
- Current Privileges: Contains a table with three columns: "Type", "Status", and "Expiry Date". The table is currently empty.
- New Privileges: Contains a label "Access Code:" followed by a text input field with a blue border. To the right of the input field is a button labeled "Add".

At the bottom of the dialog box are two buttons: "OK" and "Cancel".

If the serial number is not listed in BOSSWeb, you will require contacting your service representative, as you did in the past to have him add the serial number to our master database for future access in BOSSWeb. The service representative will be able to generate a temporary code for you, so you can start using B.U.D.S. immediately.

If you no longer have the MPI-2 as listed, contact a Service rep so that it may be removed from your list. This will cause the missing MPI-2 to eventually be deactivated permanently preventing unauthorized use.
